Coal Worker Strike Looks Certain After Talks Break Off

WASHINGTON (AP) — A strike in the nation's coal fields appears certain Dec. 6 following a break-off in contract negotiations with no plans to resume bargaining.

"It is now rather certain there is going to be a work stoppage," United Mine Workers President Arnold Miller said Friday as he left the negotiations in a downtown hotel. He has predicted "a long and bitter strike."

Federal mediators were in touch with union and industry officials and are expected to try to get them back to the bargaining table next week.

But both sides in the dispute are now reconciled to a strike even though the deadline is still more than a week away. It would take 10 days just for the union to get a contract ratified by the rank-and-file, and there is little hope of extending the present agreement, which expires at 12:01 a.m. Dec. 6.

A strike by the union's 130,000 miners, who produce about half the nation's coal, has been widely anticipated by utilities and other major coal users. They have accumulated large stockpiles, so a walkout isn't expected to cause serious problems for the economy unless it lasts until spring.

However, the heavy coal producing states of Ohio, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Kentucky can be expected to feel the effects sooner as the mines shut down, resulting in millions of dollars in lost wages. Two major coal-hauling railroads already have announced layoffs.

Officials of both the UMW and the Bituminous Coal Operators Association, the industry's bargaining arm, accused each other of breaking off the negotiations.

Miller said the association refused to bargain in good faith on key economic issues. The association denied it and accused Miller of planning to break off talks even before the meeting started.

The negotiators had returned from a Thanksgiving Day recess with an agreement to meet through the weekend, but Friday's session ended abruptly after about two hours.

"The BCOA repeatedly threatened the UMW, called it 'weak and divided' and stated the UMW 'was on probation' and 'not the only game in town,'" Miller said in a statement.

An association spokesman did not deny the comment, but noted it has long been the industry's position to "emphasize the importance of a strong union."

UMW-organized mines now account only for about 50 percent of total U.S. coal production compared with 70 percent in 1974. The decline has been due in part to bitter internal union strife and wildcat strikes over the past three years and the UMW's failure to organize the new mines in the West.

Miller said the industry has proposed a reduced medical program through company insurance plans, a no-strike clause with penalties that would reduce miners' wages and "elimination of some of the vital gains won in the 1974 contract." He did not elaborate.

Sadat Invites Israel, Other Parties, To Cairo Next Week

CAIRO (AP) — President Anwar Sadat today invited Israel and other parties to the Mideast conflict to come to Cairo starting next week to prepare for a peace conference.

Sadat spoke in an emotional 80-minute speech to an often cheering Egyptian parliament in which he pounded the lectern for emphasis and vowed to smash "the idols of fear" and "the enemies of life."

The Egyptian leader said the conference in Geneva should last months, not years, and that the United States, the Soviet Union and U.N. Secretary General Kurt Waldheim also would be invited to Cairo for preparations.

"I will give instructions to the foreign minister of Egypt after this speech to contact the United Nations, the two big powers and the parties to the conflict, including Israel, to tell them that Cairo welcomes them as of next Saturday, to prepare for the Geneva conference," Sadat declared.

There was no indication that Sadat was including the Palestine Liberation Organization, which has called him a traitor. But he said that, as on past occasions when the Palestinians have attacked him, "We will forgive their hastiness and suspicion."

After attacking Syria and other Arab states for attacking him, Sadat said Egypt would go ahead on its present course regardless of criticism.

"Egypt is the balancing point of the Arab nation," Sadat said. "It is the key to war or peace."

Preparations for the Geneva conference until now have been in the hands of the United States, which has acted as a go-between in attempts to get Arabs and Israelis to agree on ground rules.

Sadat's invitation appeared to be an attempt to bypass intermediaries and to maintain the momentum generated by his trip to Israel last week.

In his 80-minute speech, interrupted several times by standing ovations, Sadat did not announce any concrete

Storm Systems Churn Closer Together Threatening Northeast

By The Associated Press
Two storms, one of which left 15 persons dead in the Midwest, 10 as a result of heart attacks while shoveling snow, churned closer together today, threatening the Northeast with a major blizzard.

Weather-related incidents claimed nine lives in Wisconsin and three lives each in Michigan and Illinois.

Officials said all nine of the persons who died in storm-related deaths in Wisconsin suffered heart attacks, eight while shoveling snow and the other while putting snow tires on his auto.

Two of the Illinois deaths also were attributed to heart attacks suffered by persons while shoveling snow.

The other five deaths came in accidents, including two Michigan boys hit by a car when their sled slid into the path of a car.

In Milwaukee, nearly 11 inches of snow fell Friday and the pre-dawn temperature dipped to 3 degrees, a record for Nov. 26.

Meanwhile, in the Pacific Northwest, heavy rains drenched Washington and Oregon.

The National Weather Service said the two Northeastern storms — one rumbling across the Great Lakes, and the other blowing in from the Atlantic — would intensify today, and dump five to eight inches of snow on portions of New York state before moving into Quebec.

Winds gusting to 50 mph were expected to blow the snow into deep drifts, and reduce visibility to near zero. Travelers' advisories were posted throughout the region.

The weather service in Buffalo, N.Y., said frigid temperatures and high winds would combine for a wind-chill factor dropping to 20 degrees below zero in some parts of the state.

Further south, travelers' warnings were posted in northern Pennsylvania and western Maryland. Up to six inches of snow was forecast for northern Pennsylvania.

On the Oregon coast, already soggy from heavy rains earlier this week, people, cattle and mobile homes were evacuated to higher ground. A storm in the Pacific was moving inland, and another inch of rain was in today's forecast.

Rainfall in Seattle already has passed last year's total by more than an inch, further easing drought conditions in western portions of Washington state.

Rivers in Washington would "come up fairly full," the weather service said, but were expected to fall short of flood levels today.

Santa To Arrive Here In Parade On Saturday

The sixth annual Christmas Parade sponsored by The Murray Rotary Club will be held Saturday, Dec. 3, at 2:00 p.m. The parade will herald the arrival of Santa Claus to officially open the Christmas season in Murray.

Charles Walston of the Murray Rotary Club said that more units than ever before are expected to be in the parade this year.

Two divisions for the judging of the floats will be as follows:

Commercial Division with plaques for prizes; School Division with first prize of $100, second $75, and third $50. Each band will also be recognized with a plaque.

Also in the parade will be several floats, twirling groups, Shriner unit, cheerleaders, several local personalities and Miss Kentucky, Karen Gordon.

Any person, club, school or organization who would like to enter a unit in the parade is asked to contact Charles Walston at 753-9694 or 753-4097.

County Residents Get Bigger Pension Checks

How much are Calloway County residents now receiving from Social Security checks? How do the payments compare with those going to people in other areas?

Based upon the latest official figures, the amounts they are getting are relatively large. The size of their checks, as well as the number of local recipients, has been on the increase in the last few years, as revisions have been made.

Another upward revision in their benefits is expected next July to compensate for the rise in the cost of living, to which they are now tied. Last July the hike was 5.9 percent.

The report released by the Social Security Administration shows that payments to Calloway County residents, as of the beginning of 1977, were at the average rate of $2,114 per year. This compares with $1,185 five years ago.

The report released by the Social Security Administration shows that payments to Calloway County residents, as of the beginning of 1977, were at the average rate of $2,114 per year. This compares with $1,185 five years ago.

Throughout the East South Central States as a whole, the average was $1,949 and, in the state of Kentucky, $1,993.

The fact that the checks going to local beneficiaries are running bigger than those to many other parts of the country indicates that, over the years, their incomes were larger and, consequently, their contributions to the Social Security trust fund.

With each passing year a growing number of retired or disabled workers and their dependents are qualifying for Social Security benefits as revisions in the law bring in additional classes of workers, who were ineligible before.

The current report shows that the number of persons in Calloway County who were receiving pension payments in the past year was 5,770. Five years ago there were 4,564.

The combination of more beneficiaries and bigger checks has greatly increased the amount of money entering the county from this source.

The government's figures indicate that overall payments locally, as of January 1st, were at the annual rate of $12,197,000. Five years earlier, by way of contrast, the total was only $5,412,000.

Changes in the Social Security system are expected in the near future as Congress and the Administration decide on the measures to take to improve its financial condition, which has been deteriorating.

NEW MEMBERS—The Murray Lions Club installed six new members at the meeting on Tuesday night. Conducting the installation program was Roland Brightwell, Deputy District Governor from Mayfield. In addition to the new members, the club accepted a transfer member, Eddie J. Carmichael, whose membership was transferred from Savannah, Ga., where he was director of public relations for the general hospital and manager of a high-rise apartment building. He is now retired and living on Kentucky Lake. Pictured left to right are: Deputy District Governor Brightwell; Randall G. Rouff, Lt. Co., Professor of Military Science MSU; Wendell Jordan, Dept. of Industrial Arts Education MSU; Robert Glin Jeffrey, Superintendent Murray City Schools; Jerrell G. White, Pastor Memorial Baptist Church; Eddie J. Carmichael; and Yancy Watkins, president of the club. Not present for the picture were new members Fred Clark, retired school administrator, and Charlie Lassiter, director of pupil personnel and transportation, Calloway County Schools.

PEAR EXPERTISE
Fresh Bartlett pears develop their smooth texture and juiciness when ripened off the tree. If pears are under-ripe when purchased, store at room temperature until the skin turns a sunny yellow and the fruit yields to gentle pressure when held in the palm of the hand. Ripe Bartlett pears will keep several days in the refrigerator.

FOR SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1977

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth sign.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20) ♈
Your judgment a bit cloudy now, so make no major decisions and, above all, don't launch any new enterprises. Stick with the familiar.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21) ♉
Personal relationships at their best. In fact, a close friend or associate may be instrumental in helping you solve a long-standing problem.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21) ♊
The Gemini tendency to seek the unusual and offbeat will be much in evidence now. You'll find great satisfaction in areas others overlook.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23) ♋
Give careful thought to decisions you must make soon. Try to understand thoroughly the tasks and involvements of the next few days. And be objective!

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23) ♌
Controversy may prove annoying. Yet here is where your tolerant, optimistic self can shine. Emphasize pertinent points and keep minor issues in their place.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) ♍
Follow your instincts now. Intuition should be at a peak and could disclose heartening new vistas which will open to you shortly.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) ♎
Influences stimulate your intellectual and artistic leanings. Take hints from those doing well, add your own smart ideas and comprehensive follow-up for a successful program.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23) ♏
Penny wise and pound foolish should have plenty of meaning to you now. Curb a present tendency toward extravagance and temper a desire for luxuries.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21) ♐
Some extraordinary offerings for the taking, but avoid unruly emotions or notions. This day calls for your innate good judgment and foresight.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) ♑
How you present yourself will either attract cooperation or detract from your standing, so put your best foot forward. Be scrupulous about ethics, procedure.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) ♒
Start day with enthusiasm and keep it going — even in trying moments. Getting cooperation from family and associates may be your biggest problem, but it CAN be achieved.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) ♓
Do not start anything without knowing if you can follow through. All efforts and ambitions must be thoughtfully directed now. Don't follow new trends blindly.

YOU BORN TODAY are individualistic, highly creative, progressive in your thinking, and logical, too. Your drive instills ambition in many, and your high ideals and integrity are an inspiration to all with whom you come in contact. All this, of course, if you are developing your finest traits.

You are a born wanderer and could succeed in any field which involves travel. You could also shine as a trial lawyer since there is no more persuasive talker than the Sagittarian at his best. Other fields suited to your talents: corporation management, finance, literature and statesmanship.

Birthdate of: Guillaume Dufay, French musicologist; David Merrick, theatrical producer.

FOR MONDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1977

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth sign.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20) ♈
A mixed day. Job associates are in tune with your efforts right now, but you can expect some ups and downs in a romantic situation.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21) ♉
A deal made with important persons should up your status, bring gains. Just be sure you are aware of every angle.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21) ♊
A new work assignment may seem difficult to carry out, but a comprehensive discussion with close associates will produce useful ideas, guidance.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23) ♋
This day should bring new zest into your life. Both personal and business matters governed by generous influences. Do make the most of it!

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23) ♌
One of your top days for attainment, but strengthen present status before tackling new ventures. Use that extraordinarily good judgment of yours.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) ♍
A good day for occupational matters. You may get some information you have been seeking for some time. Don't make decisions hastily, however.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) ♎
A personal matter may need some extra attention now. However, do not neglect job or business interests. It may be a crowded day, but you can handle it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23) ♏
Confidential findings should be carefully guarded. Tone down your usual volubility. Stress discretion and foresight.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21) ♐
Avoid a tendency toward vehemence, emotional outbursts generally. Be steadfast where you know you should, keen to hear all views: There may be some gems among them.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) ♑
It may be exciting to think about doing something "different," but be careful of negligence or "cutting corners" in handling present obligations.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) ♒
You should feel highly optimistic now. There's possibility of a new undertaking, friendship, project. Tackle difficult situations with confidence.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) ♓
You can mold this day largely as you will. Fine stellar influences should help you out in extracurricular activities — especially if they are of a creative nature.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a truly brilliant intellect and, being highly imaginative as well, could make a huge success in any of the arts. Unlike most Sagittarians, business does not appeal to you especially but, in addition to your creative abilities, you have scientific and mechanical skills; could become a highly successful electrical engineer, for instance. You have a penchant for higher learning, are ambitious and willing to work hard to achieve your lofty goals. On the personal side, you are a delightful conversationalist, an amiable companion, and generous to a fault. Birthdate of: William Blake, poet, mystic, painter; Arthur Rubinstein, pianist-composer; Brooks Atkinson, drama critic.

Fiance Doesn't Know She Can't Have Child

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1977 by The Chicago Tribune News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I'm 25, have been divorced for five years and have two children, ages 6 and 4. I wasn't married when my second child was born. That's when I had my tubes tied. (I figured two children were enough for me, married or single.)

Then I met Ray, and it was love at first sight for both of us. Ray is perfect for me in every way. He's 33, divorced and has never had any children, but he's crazy about kids. He's just like a father to my children and they adore him. Abby, I've never known such a kind and understanding man.

Ray and I have set our wedding date, and the closer it gets the more chicken I get because I never told him that I had my tubes tied. He keeps talking about the "kids" we will have one day, and I just can't tell him I can't have any more. I am so afraid that if he knows the truth it might change the way he feels about me, and I love him so much I don't want to lose him.

Would it be terribly dishonest if I were to keep this from him?

CHICKEN

DEAR CHICKEN: Yes. If it will make a difference in his feelings for you, you're better off knowing now. Tell him. If he's as kind and understanding as you say he is, he'll marry you anyway.

DEAR ABBY: While talking to my husband one evening, I asked him if he had ever had an affair before we were married. He laughed and said he was taking the Fifth Amendment on that one.

We talked some more and he finally said, "If I were to tell you I had, then you'd want to know with whom and when, and then things would never be the same between us."

He is very proud of the fact that he never lies. I then said that I knew that he had had an affair with a certain person and I just wanted him to admit it. He made no comment and the conversation ended. (I don't really know, but I have strong suspicions.)

Now I am wondering why he "took the Fifth." Isn't that an admission of guilt? If he was not guilty, all he had to do was say so.

Would you say he is acting like a guilty man or one who is innocent?

SUSPICIOUS

DEAR SUSPICIOUS: I would not presume to judge him guilty or innocent. However, he appears to be very intelligent. And if you're wise, you'll not bring it up again.

DEAR ABBY: I am just about ready to lose my mind. I have talked to our minister, my family doctor (he gave me some pills for my nerves), all my relatives and some of the neighbors, and everyone tells me there is nothing I can do. You are my last hope.

I have a beautiful daughter. She is 54 and has never been married. She had her chances, but she was particular. She worked steady for 35 years, saved her money and never ran around.

Well, she finally met a man she thinks is worth marrying. He is 57 (he says) and has never been married (he claims). He travels for some kind of electronics company, and all I know about him is that he drives a nice car and has my daughter in a trance. Here is the blow. My daughter says she doesn't want a wedding, so if she doesn't come home one night, I shouldn't worry — she'll have gone to Las Vegas to get married. How can I talk some sense into that child's head?

HEARTBROKEN MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I'll have to vote with the minister, your family doctor, the relatives and the neighbors. Your "child" is a big girl now and well able to make her own decisions. Don't take it personally. She's entitled to have the kind of wedding she wants.

If you feel left out and lonely, or wish you knew how to get people to like you, my new booklet, "How To Be Popular: You're Never Too Young or Too Old," is for you. Send $1 along with a long, self-addressed, stamped (24 cents) envelope to Abby, 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Mrs. Hodges Is Speaker At Chapter Meet, Herron Home

Miss Ann Herron entertained members of Chapter M of P.E.O. in her home for the November 19 luncheon meeting. The outstanding program was given by Mrs. Harlan Hodges, a member. She reviewed "Dear and Glorious Physician" by Taylor Caldwell. She was introduced by Mrs. Harry Sparks of the program committee.

Mrs. Hodges, a dramatist, lecturer, book reviewer, and a retired teacher, described the book which she covered so beautifully as "the greatest thing in Taylor Caldwell's writings" in her opinion. The book includes the home life and life style of Luke, the philosopher and scientist, and his visit and conversations with Mary, the mother of Jesus.

The Murray dramatist is a member of the National League of American Pen Women and of the National Platform Association. She is known for her dramatizations throughout Kentucky and several other states where she has been a guest speaker for years. She is listed in numerous Who's Who societies.

In the business session, Mrs. Olga Freeman, president, presided. The devotion was given by Mrs. A. H. Tisworth, chaplain pro tem. Mrs. Edward Coffman, Madisonville member, served as treasurer pro tem. Other officers present and reporting were Mrs. Maurice Christopher, recording secretary, Mrs. Alfred Lindsey, Jr., corresponding secretary, and Mrs. A. C. LaFollette, guard.

Mrs. John C. Quertermous moved that Chapter M make a monetary contribution to the perpetual scholarship at Murray State University in memory of Frank Albert Stubblefield, the late Congressman from Murray. Mrs. Stubblefield is a member of the local chapter.

Miss Herron seated the members around two large dining tables for the delightful fall luncheon.

Freezing & Canning Pumpkin Discussed By Local Agent

From The Desk Of
Jean W. Cloar
County Extension Agent
For Home Economics
FREEZING PUMPKIN

For either freezing or canning, choose a full-colored, mature pumpkin with a texture that is fine, rather than coarse and stringy. Small and medium-size pumpkins usually make better eating than the great big ones.

and medium-size pumpkins usually make better eating than the great big ones.

Wash the pumpkin, cut into small sections, peel, and remove seeds. (Set the seeds aside for roasting later on — they make good and nutritious munching.)

Steam, or cook in boiling water, pressure cooker or oven until soft. Mash pulp or put it through a sieve. Cool by placing pan of pumpkin pulp over chopped ice or in cold water. Stir occasionally. Package in pint or quart freezer containers, leaving 1/2 inch headspace. Label and freeze immediately.

CANNING PUMPKIN

Can strained pumpkin in pint jars to take advantage of a shorter processing time. This is low-acid vegetable, so use your pressure canner.

Simmer strained pumpkin until heated through, stirring to keep it from sticking to the pan. Pack hot into pint jars, leaving 1/2 inch headspace. Add no liquid or salt.

Wipe jar rims clean, adjust lids, and process in pressure canner at 10 pounds pressure for 65 minutes.

Remove jars from canner, and complete seals if necessary.

If you use quart jars, process them for 80 minutes.

PUMPKIN IN YOUR MEALS
Use this canned or frozen pumpkin in pies, cakes, quick breads and puddings. Or season, cook and serve it as a vegetable, much the same way you would serve winter squash.

If you have lots of odds and ends of vegetables from your garden, but do not enough to put up separately, you could freeze the together for a good soup or stew base.

Blanch each vegetable according to the time listed in your freezing manual, cool, combine and freeze.

We want to help you save electricity. So we're offering you an interest free loan.

That's right. We want you to bring your attic insulation up to at least R-19 value so you won't be wasting electricity and paying higher than necessary electric bills during the heating and cooling seasons.

We'll inspect your home free, and even if you don't qualify for the loan we'll offer suggestions that will help you save energy while staying comfortable year-round.

If you have electric heat and not enough attic insulation, we'll lend the money you need to get the job done. We'll come and inspect it to see that it's done properly. And you'll have up to 36 months to repay the loan in equal payments on your electric bill.

When you consider what you'll be saving on heating and cooling costs, the insulation may actually pay for itself. And after the payback period, you'll enjoy the energy and money savings for the lifetime of the home.

Letters To The Editor

Good News On Broadcasts

Dear Editor,
Good news about Federal Communication Commission No. 2493 on possible banning of religious broadcasting: On August 1, 1975 the FCC in a unanimous action denied the request made in the petition. The time for appeal has now expired. This petition is now dead.

The FCC has received 4 1/2 million pieces of mail on this matter with an estimated 20 to 30 million signatures opposing the petition.

Petition RM2493 was filed by L. W. Milam and J. D. Lansman of California in December of 1974. The 27,000 signatures with Mrs. O'Hair pertained to another matter which has also been defeated.

Vigilance on such matters as this is needed, but continued protest often based on mis-information may lessen ones credibility in the future when protest may be urgently needed.

The above information was printed in Report from the Capitol, January, 1977, published by the Baptist Joint Committee on Public Affairs, 200 Maryland Ave., N.E. Washington, D.C. 20002.

Supports Coach Furgerson

Editor:

Bill Furgerson stated he did not win the OVC in his eleven years as football coach and that is unfortunate, but according to what I have read in this area's papers and what I heard on tv from both him and President Curris there is a decided variance. Furgerson stated he had a meeting with Dr. Marshall Gordon and President Curris who said they were expressing the feelings of the Board of Regents (his resignation expected of course) which strongly felt Murray should have won the conference, but it seemed to me Curris, if I recall correctly, said on tv he was unaware of those feelings and a decision as to Furgerson would be decided at the next meeting of the Board, later this week I believe he said.

I am not acquainted with Curris or any members of the Board, but have known Furgerson since coming to Murray in 1950. I prefer to believe everything he said is gospel truth and that the University will make a grave mistake, should Furgerson's resignation be accepted.

Agrees On Horoscopes

Dear Editor,

I am very glad someone wrote and explained the truth about horoscopes. I say truth because she quoted the Word of the Lord—who is the truth. John 14:6 says, "I am the way, the truth, and the life..."

I agree with what she wrote and whether I do or not does not make God's word any less clear on this subject. Also, if I did disagree it would not change God's word and make it null and void. Matthew 24:35 says, "Heaven and earth shall pass away but my word shall not pass away." To me, this means the word of the Lord is very important and you can trust Him to do what He says He will.

I believe it is time we who are Christians realize what it really means to be one. We need to quit fooling around with darkness and continuing to say we trust and obey the Lord when our actions do not show it.

I John 1:5-6 says, "And this is the message we have heard from Him and announce to you, that God is light and in Him there is no darkness at all. If we say that we have fellowship with Him yet walk in the darkness we lie and do not practice the truth." Ephesians 5:8-11 says, "For this you know with certainty, that no immoral or impure person, or covetous man who is an idolater has an inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and God. Let no one deceive you with empty words for because of these things the wrath of God comes upon the sons of disobedience. Therefore do not be partakers with them; for you were formerly darkness, but now you are light in the Lord; walk as children of light (for the fruit of the light consists in all goodness and righteousness and truth), trying to learn what is pleasing to the Lord. And do not participate in the unfruitful deeds of darkness, but instead even expose them."

These scriptures tell us how we are to live, especially if we are Christians. If we disagree or are shocked or convicted (which means provoked or found guilty) it is because, "the word of God is living and active and sharper than any two-edged sword, and piercing as far as the division of soul and spirit, of both joints and marrow and able to judge the thoughts and intentions of the heart. And there is no creature hidden from His sight, but all things are open and laid bare to the eyes of Him with whom we have to do. (Hebrews 4:12-13)

Again, I say thank you for printing Miss Hogan's letter. I hope you take this matter seriously and realize the consequences if you continue to print it in the paper. Not only will you jeopardize yourself, but you will be putting a stumbling block before others. Matthew 18:7 says, "Woe to the world because of its stumbling blocks! For it is inevitable that stumbling blocks come; but woe to that man through whom the stumbling block comes!" Romans 14:21 says, "It is good not to eat meat or to drink wine, or to do anything by which your brother stumbles." Therefore, I suggest you take the horoscope out of the paper so you won't be a stumbling block and be a participator in the unfruitful deeds of darkness.

Yours truly,

Inside Report

By Rowland Evans and Robert Novak

Hibernating French Communists

PARIS—Although the gloom is naturally concealed at the fortress-like Communist party headquarters here, the inner mood of the party these days is one of beleaguered worry tinged with desperation.

The reason is not hard to find: the spectacular Communist decision to break its five-year union with the Socialist party of Francois Mitterand has forced one of those 180-degree reversals that litter the Communist landscape back to the Russian revolution.

Party leader Georges Marchais (actually a closet opponent of the party's decision to break the Union of the Left) had made Mitterand the shining symbol of the Socialist-Communist union and its Common Program. Now Marchais's job is to convince disillusioned party cadres that Mitterand is some sort of anti-Marxist, anti-worker traitor. These are the same cadres who were promised by Marchais for the past year that sweet victory awaited the Union of the Left in the election now scheduled for March 1978.

"It is becoming clear that the leaders of the Socialist party have heard the siren song and are setting forth," Marchais told his central committee in a battle-cry speech last month. Setting forth where? For a new political union with "national and international forces opposed to genuine political change"—in other words, the hated bourgeois center—just as "the Social Democrats are managing the affairs of capitalism" in Britain, West Germany, Austria, Portugal and other West European states.

The sin of the Mitterand Socialists, says Marchais, is their refusal to agree to an economic revolution that includes full nationalization of major holding companies and their affiliates, a 50 percent increase in family allowances, a tax on capital and wealth, and worker elections of board chairmen in nationalized companies.

Marchais's political dilemma is profound. Even with a $2 million kitty to hold the party cadres in line and whip up new members for the March election, can he justify sacrificing such other economic goals as higher minimum wages, agreed to by the Socialists, just because Mitterand will not buy the whole new Communist package?

These other, lesser parts of the Common Program did indeed appear to be within reach before the September break of the Union of the Left. As of today, however, the prospect appears remote of either a healing of the breach or of enough informal Communist support for Socialist candidates in the election to give the Socialists control of a new minority government. Indeed, the reverse may occur: a Communist decision to cut key Socialist candidates in selected districts in the runoff (second) balloting, a process that could cost Mitterand between 50 and 60 seats he would otherwise win.

In short, the economic goals for workers seem far from Marchais's mind today, even the goals that formed the Common Program before the Communists escalated their demands and forced a rupture of the left. The Communists' real goal may be more complex: to whittle down the fast-growing Socialist party, no matter how much the Communists damage themselves in the process, and then move into a rebuilding process of the left after the election.

That would mean hibernation time for the Communists for several years. But given the present preeminence within the left of Socialists over Communists—a reversal of roles since the Union of the Left was formed in 1972—temporary self-destruction of the left in the March election followed by rebuilding may be the best of bad choices for Marchais's Communist party.

It would free the cadres for serious party rebuilding from a base of ideological commitment far stronger than the Socialists'. It would also free them from and unacceptable position as No. 2 party in a left government—something both the Communists here and in Moscow seem unwilling to accept.

A step backward by the Communists followed by a longer step forward carries grave risks for France. It could confront President Giscard d'Estaing with this dilemma: an election in which the disunited left captured more popular votes but fewer deputies than the tenuously united center-right.

That would probably doom Giscard's cherished desire for a coalition government between the center and the Socialist left. Leaving the left out of the new government would have dangerous results in politically volatile France, results that might greatly profit the Communist party.

Isn't It The Truth

Times haven't changed so much since the see thing 1950s and the turbulent 1960s; not where pretty girls are concerned. It still applies that if we give a pretty girl a little rope she will either trip over it or tie it into a lover's knot.

MUM'S THE WORD:

Don't Say "It Was All My Fault"

A fender-bender can turn into tragedy if the people involved don't act quickly to warn other motorists. How much do you recall from your driver's manual on what to do in case of accident?

Very little, perhaps. Here, from Extension home management specialist Florence Parker, is a sixteen-point reminder of what to do. It's just one of many life-saving basics women around the state have picked up in car-care and driver-responsibility workshops sponsored by the UK College of Agriculture's Cooperative Extension Service.

In case you're hurt and can't go into action, school other family members on what to do.

MOVE CAR

TURN ON FLASHERS
1. If your car is a safety hazard to other drivers, move it off the road onto the right shoulder if you can. Otherwise, police want you to leave it where it is.

2. Turn off the ignition.
3. If the car catches fire, get everyone out and try to douse it with a fire extinguisher or baking soda. If fire is out of control, get everyone at least 100 feet away in case the gas tank explodes.

4. Turn on your flares or fluorescent markers for enough behind the car (in front, too, if needed) to give alerted drivers a safe slow-down or stopping distance. At night, this action is especially critical.

ANYBODY HURT?

5. Now see if anyone's hurt. Cover someone with a blanket, but don't try to give first aid unless you know exactly what you're doing. People have been sued for doing the wrong thing.

6. If possible, stop cars coming from two different directions and have them get police and medical help. Someone with a CB radio can do this quickly.

7. Gather information. Write down names and addresses of other driver(s) involved and their passengers. Get a driver's license number, license plate and car registration numbers.

8. Also get names, addresses and phone numbers of witnesses. Take down quotes, such as, "He went through a red light." Be sure you know who said what.

9. Jot down date, time of day, weather, condition of road, etc.

10. Don't let your car be towed away without finding out who's doing it, where it's going, and how much it will cost for towing and storage.

DON'T TAKE THE BLAME

11. Don't tell the police anything except your name, address, license number, car registration, name of your insurance company and the unadorned facts of the accident.

12. Don't take blame for the accident, no matter how you feel about it. This could be used against you in court.

13. Don't sign a towing agreement without reading it carefully. Otherwise, you may find that you authorized expensive repair work. An insurance adjuster has to look at your car and appraise the damage before it can be repaired.

CALL INSURANCE AGENT

14. Notify your insurance company right away, even if another driver says his company will take care of everything.

15. Find out if your agent plans to file an accident report. If not, do so yourself.

SEE YOUR DOCTOR

16. If you were even just slightly hurt, or have any discomfort at all, see your doctor—just in case. Some injuries don't show up until later, when you may otherwise not be able to claim them as a result of the accident.

Gasoline Service Station Dealer Chapter Formed

The Purchase Area has formed a Gasoline Service Station Dealer Chapter, an affiliate of Kentucky Gasoline Dealers Association, Inc.

At the highly successful meeting of 32 dealers held at the Ramada Inn, Paducah on Thursday, November 17, the following were elected to head their Chapter: Don Catiller, of Southside Exxon in Paducah, chairman; and will serve one year plus being on the state board of KGDA as representative from the Purchase Area; vice chairman is Rudy A. Baker, Jr., of Rudy's Standard Service in Paducah; secretary-treasurer is Frank DuPerreux of DuPerreux Texaco in Paducah.

PCA Holds 44th Annual Stockholders Meeting

The Murray Office of the Jackson-Purchase Credit Association held its 44th Annual Stockholders Meeting November 10, 1977 at the Murray High School Cafeteria. Members were present from both Calloway and Marshall Counties. After enjoying a good meal, a short business meeting was held by the Association Directors and Employees.

Keys Keel, Office Manager, welcomed everyone and acknowledged special guests and employees from other PCA offices throughout the Jackson Purchase. Keel gave the progress report of the Murray Office which has been a 24 percent increase in volume over 1976 with an outstanding of 10½ million dollars.

As the program continued, Jim Wilson, chairman of the Board of Directors, conducted the business meeting and explained the importance of PCA members taking part in the election of the directors. The directors of Graves and Hickman Counties terms expired and were to be voted on. Also two individuals were voted on for Nominating Committee member for 1978 of which Graves Burken was elected. After the election had been conducted by Charles Magness, Association Vice President, the directors report was given by Calloway County Director, Bill Ed Hendon.

Following the directors report, Cloy Hobbs, Association President, discussed the financial statement of the Association. He said the Association serving eight counties has a 77 million dollar outstanding and is structurally sound and strong enough for the anticipated growth of the future. He also explained with the volume that the Association now has, it enables them to hold the cost of money to a lower level.

At the close of the meeting, Richard Price, Field Representative, expressed his appreciation for the cooperation the members have shown the Association. Five bags of 30 silver dollars each were given as door prizes. The meeting was adjourned by Jim Wilson.

Local Realtors Participate In Advertising Seminar

A group of Kentucky and Tennessee real estate brokers recently participated in a marketing seminar in Nashville, Tennessee and conducted by Lee Crawford Management Systems, a New Jersey based management consultant firm. The full day educational conference was aimed at maximizing the impact of Realtors marketing methods by systematizing the advertising efforts.

Loretta Jobs, Broker and Pat Saylor, Secretary of Loretta Jobs Realtors called the seminar "one of the most productive educational experiences we've ever participated in. The highly efficient new approaches to advertising we studied should increase the effect of our marketing significantly."

The seminar presented a new system for coordinating the various aspects of a real estate marketing effort, including evaluation of media, cost control, goal orientation, public relations, and other related subjects. Lee Crawford, a principal in the company presenting the program, pointed out that each Realtor is faced with the substantial task of organizing and implementing an advertising and marketing program which will present his clients' properties to the buying public in such a way as to attract the greatest number of potential buyers.

"What we've done," he said, "is to formulate a system which takes the guess-work out of real estate advertising." The firm claims use of the system can increase advertising effectiveness by 15 to 20 per cent.

Lee Crawford called the seminar "another example of the willingness of Realtors to devote their time and effort to learning how to serve their clients better. Continuing education is a fact of life in the real estate profession. We try never to stagnate...there are too many people counting on us."

Cunningham Named Dealer

W. A. Cunningham was recently appointed the Superior Muffler Dealer in Murray.

This means that motorists in this area can forget about the periodic expense of exhaust system replacement thanks to the famous Superior Muffler guarantee which is good for as long as you own your car," a spokesman said. The guarantee, valid at more than 1200 dealers coast-to-coast, covers every possible part of the exhaust system: muffler, tailpipe, exhaust pipes, clamps, hangers and even labor. It means that once Cunningham installs the exhaust system on your vehicle, be it American or Imported, you will never pay for repair or replacement again, the spokesman added.

By using the unique Superior Muffler pipe-bending equipment he can bend a tailpipe to fit almost every American or Foreign car, van and camper on the road today. That includes antique cars as well as high performance cars.

As part of the largest muffler network in the world, he also offers dual conversions and custom bending.

In this area, Superior Muffler exhaust systems are available at Cunningham Auto Repair and Motor Sales, Inc., 619 South 4th St., in Murray.

USC Stops UCLA On Last Second, 38 Yard, Field Goal

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

It was the biggest win of the year for Washington and the Huskies didn't even get their uniforms dirty.

Washington earned its first trip to the Rose Bowl in 14 years when Southern Cal edged UCLA 29-27 Friday night on Frank Jordan's 38-yard field goal with two seconds remaining in their intra-city college football rivalry.

A victory by UCLA would have sent the Bruins to the Jan. 2 classic in Pasadena. But Jordan's field goal knocked UCLA out of the bowl picture, gave Southern Cal a spot in the Bluebonnet Bowl against either Texas or Texas A&M and made Washington the Pacific 8's representative in the Rose Bowl against Michigan of the Big Ten.

"It was like coming off the field after a big win," said Washington Coach Don James, who watched the thriller on television. Washington finished with a 6-1 Pac-8 mark, while both Southern Cal and 17th-ranked UCLA were 5-2 in conference play.

Oklahoma and Arizona State were other big winners Friday.

Oklahoma, ranked No. 3 nationally, clinched the Big Eight championship and a berth in the Orange Bowl in Miami Jan. 2 by overpowering Nebraska 38-7 Friday afternoon with an awesome offensive display led by quarterback Thomas Lott and running back Elvis Peacock.

As a consolation prize, 11th-ranked Nebraska will be going to the Liberty Bowl in Memphis, Tenn. Dec. 19 against North Carolina.

No. 19 Arizona State, meanwhile, beat Arizona 23-7 to become the Western Athletic Conference's representative in the Fiesta Bowl. The Sun Devils will play Penn State at Tempe, Ariz. on Christmas Day.

Saturday's schedule included No. 1 Texas at No. 12 Texas A&M, No. 2 Alabama against Auburn at Birmingham, Ala.; No. 9 Penn State and No. 10 Pitt, No. 16 San Diego State at San Jose State, No. 18 Brigham Young at Texas-El Paso and the traditional Army-Navy interservice clash at Philadelphia.

Southern Cal's Jordan went from goat to hero in a matter of minutes. His two missed extra points did not appear crucial when Southern Cal moved out to a 26-10 lead, but Rick Bashore's passing cut apart the Trojans' defense throughout the second half and he finally put the Bruins ahead 27-26 with a 1-yard scoring strike to Don Pederson with 2:56 to play.

But Southern Cal, led by Rob Hertel, who completed 15 of 24 passes for 254 yards, took the ensuing kickoff and marched from its own 27 to set up Jordan's third field goal of the game.

The Trojans were out of timeouts and had to hurry to get the field goal off, but that turned out to be a blessing in disguise. "It happened so fast," said Jordan, "I didn't have time to be nervous."

Southern California Coach John Robinson would have preferred to have been playing for a Rose Bowl bid, but he is happy his club will be seeing postseason action.

Oklahoma Coach Barry Switzer was more than thankful. "We're not going to the river, we're going to the beach," he rejoiced after his team's sixth straight victory over Big Eight rival Nebraska, showing he prefers the shores of the Atlantic Ocean (the Orange Bowl in Miami) to the banks of the Mississippi River (the Liberty Bowl in Memphis).

"This offensive team is the best I've ever coached," added Switzer. Lott and Peacock outrushed the entire Nebraska backfield, 266 yards to 190. Lott, who drove the Cornhuskers dizzy with his execution of the options off the Wishbone, rushed for 143 yards and one touchdown while Peacock, a senior, gained 123 yards and scored twice.

Fullback Mike Harris rushed for 111 yards and scored one of three opening-half touchdowns as Arizona State raised its conference record to 6-1 and overall mark to 9-2. The Sun Devils are assured of at least a tie for the WAC crown with Brigham Young, which had previously announced it would not play in the Fiesta Bowl.

Bum Knee Quarterbacks May Start On Sunday

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

One team has nothing to lose, the other team everything. The situations almost are mirror images. But the words from the coaches couldn't be more similar.

The New York Jets are 2-8 and going nowhere this National Football League season. And they are thinking of starting Richard Todd, their quarterback with the bum knee, against powerful Pittsburgh Sunday.

The Oakland Raiders are 8-2 and trying to get back to the Super Bowl they won a year ago. And they are thinking of starting Ken Stabler, their quarterback with the bum knee, against bumbling Buffalo Monday night.

Todd was injured three weeks ago in a game against Miami. Stabler was hurt last Sunday against San Diego.

Also Sunday, it will be Baltimore at Denver and Los Angeles at Cleveland in a pair of games matching divisional leaders, plus Dallas at Washington, Minnesota at Green Bay, Atlanta at Tampa Bay, the New York Giants at Cincinnati, Philadelphia at New England, Kansas City at Houston, San Diego at Seattle and New Orleans at San Francisco.

Joe Greene, Pittsburgh's fierce defensive tackle, is the guy who will be going after Todd — or his replacement, rookie Matt Robinson. And he can't figure out why the Jets, building their hopes of the next decade on Todd, would want to use Joe Namath's heir against the Steelers.

"If Todd is the Jets' whole future, as they say, and he is under par, then they shouldn't play him. They're 2-8. The game can't possibly mean much to them in that position."

It means a lot to the Steelers, 6-4 and tied for first with Cleveland in the tight American Football Conference Central Division.

Baltimore's lead over Miami is 1½ games in the AFC East, so it appears the teams' critical game will be Monday night, Dec. 5, when the Colts and Dolphins meet at Miami. The Rams, whose National Football Conference West lead over Atlanta is two games, have won their last four games against Cleveland. Dallas will be trying to widen its lead over St. Louis to two games in the NFC East and virtually kayo the Redskins from the playoffs, while Minnesota hopes to regain its ongame edge over Chicago in the NFC Central.

As it has every week since it became a member of the league 24 games ago, Tampa Bay is trying to get its inaugural victory. The Buccaneers, who have scored a league-low 53 points this season, go against the Atlanta Falcons, who have allowed a league-low 83.

Quebec Whips Whalers 6-2; Howe Misses 1000th Goal

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Gordie Howe, playing despite a banged up left hand, took eight shifts, but once more failed to score his 1,000th career goal, as the Quebec Nordiques whipped the New England Whalers 6-2 in a World Hockey Association Friday night.

Real Cloutier and Marc Tardif each scored two goals for the Quebec sextet, but the game was reasonably close at 4-2 going into the final period.

New England poured 21 shots at Richard Brodeur in the third period, but none of them came off the stick of the 49-year-old superstar. His only real scoring opportunity came in the third period, when he fired wide from directly in front after being set up by Alan Hangeleben.

Howe spent 15 minutes in the whirlpool bath after the game, then displayed his left hand, with a large-sized swelling across the knuckles around the tendon area.

Quebec, last year's Avco Cup champions, outplayed the Whalers in the first two periods — and only two goals in the final minute of the second period made it a game. Larry Pleau worked with John McKenzie and Dave Keon to reduce the Quebec lead to 4-1 with 43 seconds remaining. With only eight seconds left in the period, George Lyle scored directly from a faceoff.

In the final period, both teams played it wide open. Tardif scored twice in the final 4:08 to ease the pressure.

Saturday night, the Whalers host the Edmonton Oilers, against whom Howe scored his 999th goal on Nov. 10 in Hartford.

Gordie was further handicapped by the absence of his son Mark, who normally plays left wing with his father at center on a line with Tom Webster. Mark has torn cartilage in his rib cage area and also will miss the Edmonton game.

In the only other WHA game, Rich Preston scored twice in the third period to rally the Houston Aeros to a 3-1 victory over the Cincinnati Stingers.

Preston tied the game just 12 seconds into the final period on a short backhand shot and scored the game winner on a power play at the 9:51 mark on assists by Larry Lund and Andre Lacroix.

The triumph was Houston's fourth in its last five games and moved the Aeros into fifth place in WHA standings.

Flyers Beat Barons 7-2 In NHL Action

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Reggie Leach tries to make the most of every opportunity. And that's how he scored against the Cleveland Barons.

The right winger's rebound goal at 11:11 of the first period broke a 1-1 tie to start the Philadelphia Flyers on their way to a 7-2 National Hockey League victory over the Barons Friday afternoon.

Leach tapped a loose puck behind Cleveland goalie Gary Edwards, who had failed to control a shot fired by Philadelphia defenseman Kevin McCarthy.

Three minutes later Philadelphia forward Barry Dean was credited with a tally when Barons' forward Dennis Maruk inadvertently backhanded the puck into his own net and the Flyers were off and away.

The victory boosted Philadelphia into first place in the Patrick Division, one point ahead of the New York Islanders, while Cleveland remained last in the Adams Division.

In another NHL game, the Chicago Black Hawks trounced the Colorado Rockies 5-1.

The Philadelphia-Cleveland game was stopped with 42 seconds remaining in the first period when a bench-clearing brawl erupted. Four players were ejected.

The hapless Barons, and their predecessors, the Oakland Seals, have won a total of only four of 34 games at Philadelphia's Spectrum.

Ivan Boldirev scored three goals to lead Chicago over Colorado. Boldirev connected twice within 20 seconds of the second period as the Black Hawks built a 4-0 lead and ended an eight-game winless streak. During that span, Chicago had lost five games and tied three.

The Chicago triumph also prevented Colorado from moving into a first-place tie in

Bears Going South Tuesday

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Bears will desert the snow and cold for the sunny southland Tuesday to prepare for their Dec. 4 National Football meeting against the Buccaneers at Tampa Bay. Bears workouts will be held at Jesuit Boys' High School in Tampa.

Coach Jack Pardee said Friday, "We want to insure good practices for the entire week. I don't think we'd get the proper weather conditions to work out here. Cold weather and ice and snow are not conducive to preparing a good passing game."

He added, "Also, we want the players to get in condition to playing in warm weather."

Racers To Open Season Monday Night

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor

It has been the tradition that each year when all of the basketball coaches from the Ohio Valley Conference get together for the annual Press Day, a poll is released and the teams are rated from one to eight.

RACER CENTERS — John Randall (21) and Danny Jarrett (55) will be the Racer centers this season. There will be times when both of them are in the game at the same time with Randall moving to a forward spot. Here, Randall goes up to score two of 32 points in the Blue-Gold game Monday.

Such was not the case this season. Middle Tennessee was picked first, Austin Peay second. The coaches didn't want to even attempt picking the entire eight.

Part of the reason was of course, none of the coaches wanted bestowed upon their shoulders the pressure of being a favored team. Secondly, the Ohio Valley Conference is going to be so balanced this season, about anyone can win it.

Of course Middle Tennessee will be the favorite, since they won the league last season and have four of their starters back. But, the question is, can anyone be good enough in the OVC Tournament to knock off Western Kentucky on their own floor, if they are able to finish in the top four?

It will be another crazy, unpredictable season but, the OVC will be stronger and should do better outside of league.

Where does Murray State fit in? Fred Overton won't get an answer Monday night when his club opens the season with a 7:30 p. m. game in the MSU Sports Arena against Arkansas-Pine Bluff.

But in two weeks from now, Overton should know just what lies ahead. His team will have road games at Samford, Kansas and Indiana.

"If you put it on paper and look at what everyone is coming back, we're no better than fifth. Look at Western and Middle. They return their entire squads plus they've all had super recruiting years.

"Eastern Kentucky is expected to be a strong contender, Austin Peay will be right up there and East Tennessee could be the darkhorse," Overton said.

The league is so balanced that the winning team could very well wind up 10-4 in the conference.

Overton has one problem with his club. They are so balanced, he doesn't know who is going to start.

When the Racers take the floor Monday evening, it is expected 6-8 junior John Randall will open at center, 6-6 junior Johnny Thirdkill at forward along with 6-6 senior Mike Muff, and the guards should be 6-1 junior Bobo Jackson and 6-1 senior Jimmy Warren.

However, there's 6-11 center Danny Jarrett and there's 6-5 jumping bean Skeeter Wilson, both of whom could probably find a spot on any team in the conference.

The depth doesn't end there. Robert Kelly, an impressive-looking 6-5 freshman forward, can expect to see a lot of playing time and veteran Tom Leffler adds even more depth to the position.

PRIZE FRESHMAN — Robert Kelly (3) should be one of the top freshman players in the OVC this season. Here, the 6-5 Kelly goes inside to score on a three-point play as John Randall defends.

(Staff Photos by Mike Brandon)

And then there are the guards. Overton has enough guards he could field three teams. Sophomore Lenny Barber will probably be the third guard but senior Glenn Jackson, freshman Raymond Sims and freshman David Lowry are all pushing for the first reserve guard spot.

The good thing is, there will be a lot of people playing. Overton plans to do something different this year: he's going to try and press the entire game. Naturally, that will call for fresh people every now and then so the abundance of guards can only help in the long runs.

How good are the Racers? They will be as good as anyone in the OVC, at least on a neutral floor or at MSU. But winning on the road in the OVC is like trying to hide behind your thumb, it's just almost impossible to do.

The Racers should be one of the best rebounding teams in the league and they should be one of the quickest teams in the league. The weakness?

Outside shooting.

Warren is a good shooter with good range. Other than that, there is not really a brilliant outside shooter on the club.

The Racers' bread and butter will be the inside game.

Muff, who led the team in scoring last season, is a junk player. He can score 35 points and nobody in the stands would ever know it. But when the ball goes up, Mike Muff goes up. And you can usually write down two points.

He knows where the ball is and his away-from-the-ball movement on offense rates with the best in the country. He is a good shooter from the 10-15 foot range. He was the only Racer on the pre-season All-OVC Team.

Randall may be jelling into a phenomenal player.

"John Randall could very well be a drawing card for us," Overton said.

"He is a big threat on offense and he does so many things, you just never know what he's going to do next when he has the ball. He has electricity and excites people," Overton added.

If Randall's knees hold up, then look for a brilliant year from the popular young man.

Thirdkill may be one of the smoothest-looking players to wear a Racer uniform in quite a few years. He doesn't really compare with anyone who has played here. He's fluid, smooth and almost floats when he rebounds or shoots the ball.

The keys for the Racers will be the guards. Bobo Jackson will be the quickest Racer since Darnell Adell was here. His only question mark will be the consistency of his outside shooting. Warren, who many felt was the most consistent Racer last season, should have another banner year.

Wilson and Jarrett can simply make or break the Racers. If they play like they are capable, then the Racers just might be able to play with folks like Kansas and Indiana.

Wilson had only a few games last year where he played ever near his potential.

In the Blue-Gold game this past Monday, Wilson was awesome, but he still wasn't quite to his potential: If he were to hit a peak and crack the starting lineup, he would be the next David Thompson. It's all up to him.

Jarrett will probably start against certain teams. He has good moves inside and has gained strength since last season. His success will depend on the amount of playing time he gets.

Last year, the Racers were 17-10 overall. It would appear, they will be at least that good this time around but with a couple of breaks, the Racers could possibly achieve their first 20-win season since the 1968-69 season.

Cards Drop Corbin 14-13

Mayfield Wins AA Championship

By The Associated Press

The Mayfield-Corbin state AA high school football championship game wasn't decided until the last 90 seconds. But even that must have seemed like a yawner to the folks at the Henderson County-Greene County state AAAA championship.

In that game, played at Henderson, Jim Dunaway, who scored the go ahead touchdown on a 65-yard run in the third quarter, blocked a Henderson County field goal attempt as the final gun went off to preserve Greene County's 12-12 victory.

Thus, Greene County, the state AAAA champion, moves into the state championship game against Trinity, the Jefferson County AAAA champion, Dec. 3 at Fairgrounds Stadium in Louisville.

John Quillin ran for one touchdown and passed for another to help Trinity capture the Jefferson County championship with a 21-13 victory over Bishop David.

Earlier in the day at Richmond, Jeff Jackson's 78-yard touchdown run carried Mayfield to a 14-13 victory over Corbin, which defeated Mayfield for the championship last year.

In action today, Frankfort plays Bellevue for the Class A championship and Shelby County meets Fort Thomas Highlands for the Class AAA championship. Both games will be played at Richmond.

Corbin, 10-3, had a chance to win it, but Mayfield's Craig Sims and George Taylor stopped Roy Taylor short of the goal line on a two point conversion with 86 seconds left in the game. The conversion attempt followed a 15-yard touchdown pass from Brent Freeman to Dan Chase.

Each team had scored earlier on blocked punts. Mayfield finished 12-1.

Dunaway's heroics offset two touchdown passes by Henderson County's Greg Blenker, including a 40-yard toss to his brother Doug in the second quarter to put the home team ahead 12-7.

Greg Blenker's first touchdown pass, also in the second quarter, went to Jeff Bowling and covered 14 yards.

Henderson County, 12-2, tried to run for two-point conversions after both touchdowns and failed each time.

Steve Adkins opened the scoring for Greene County, 12-2, on a seven yard run in the first quarter.

Dunaway finished the game with 154 yards rushing in 15 carries, while Henderson County's Barry Skaggs, who came into the game with 33 touchdowns, carried 33 times for 184 yards.

With its victory, Trinity avenged its only setback of the season, a 10-7 loss to Bishop David on Oct. 21.

Trinity, 13-1, opened the scoring with 7:15 left in the first quarter on a 25-yard run by Greg McGuire.

Eighty-three seconds later, Quillin hit Jim Campbell with a 53-yard touchdown pass to make the score 14-0.

Joe Milliner scored on a oneyard run in the second quarter and on a 76-yard jaunt in the third to cut Trinity's lead to 14-13, as Bishop David missed the extra point following the second touchdown.

Quillin scored the insurance touchdown with eight seconds left in the third period on a four-yard run.

SOCCER
TEHRAN, Iran — Forward Gafour Jehani scored in the 44th minute of play to give Iran a 1-0 victory over Australia that gave the Iranians their first-ever a berth in the World Cup soccer finals.

The victory gave Iran a total of 12 points to top the Asian Zone qualifying round and thus assured its berth in the World Cup matches at Buenos Aires next June.

GOLF
TOKYO — Spain's Severiano Ballesteros shot a two-underpar 470 and grabbed a onestroke lead in the second round of a $250,000 golf tournament.

The 20-year-old Ballesteros had four birdies and two bogeys on the 6,986-yard, par-72 Phoenix Country Club course and shot a 36-hole 138, six-under-par.

MELBOURNE, Australia — American John Bender fired a one-under-par 71 for a 138 and a share of second place, a stroke behind Australian Bob Shearer, after two rounds of the $165,000 Champion of Champions Golf Tournament.

BOXING
NEW YORK — A scheduled 10-round fight between light heavyweight contenders Mike Rossman of Turnersville, N.J. and Alvaro Lopez of Stockton, Calif., was canceled because of an injury to Rossman.

HORSE RINGER
NEW YORK — Attorneys for trainer Jack Morgan brought suit against the New York Racing Association Friday, seeking $125,000 in damages.

This newest development came after the return to the race track of Dr. Mark Gerard, the veterinarian accused in a horse switch scandal.

The papers, to be served Saturday on the NYRA and its acting president, James Hefferman, seeks $25,000 in compensatory damages and $100,000 punitive damages.

TENNIS

MELBOURNE, Australia — Australian tennis star Evonne Goolagong overcame fellow countrywoman Dianne Fromholtz 3-6, 6-1, 6-3 in the quarter-finals of a $75,000 women's tennis tournament.

It was the first time the Australian star has been seriously tested since her return to international competition after the birth of her daughter.

TOKYO — Romania's Ilie Nastase defeated Cliff Drysdale of South Africa 6-4, 6-4 in the semifinals of the $125,000 Gunze World Tennis tournament.

Nastase will play the winner of Saturday's semifinal between Australians John Newcombe and Ken Rosewall.

OVIEDO, Spain — Americans Peter Fleming and Eddie Dibbs won quarter-final matches in the $100,000 Grand Prix Tennis Tournament Friday.

Jan Kodes of Czechoslovakia and Raul Ramirez of Mexico also moved into the semifinals of the tourney.

BUENOS AIRES — Guillermo Vilas of Argentina and Jaime Fillol of Chile each scored singles victories to advance to Saturday's semifinals in the Argentine Open tennis championship.

Four Wheeling

By Hamp Brooks

One of the places that fourwheelers often meet is in the boondocks. Another is at the gasoline pump. "Almost inevitably, when fourwheelers meet they talk to one another. And this talk can be on any number of various subjects. The question that came to focus the other morning concerned the "Red Mule's" weekly or sooner feeding of pushwater, this particular occasion being noteworthy in that thirty plus gallons of the juice was required necessitating the extraction of a twenty dollar bill. He looked at me and I looked at him. "Is it worth it?" is the question we both asked, almost simultaneously.

Both of us owned four wheelers and had for some time. We each have jobs that require a drive of thirty miles or more daily. And strangely enough, each of us fit the category of just who is the average fourwheeler. The answer, a married man with children who is thirty years old or better. No need to hide it. Not when the esteemed Leder & Times runs that tattletale thirty years ago deal. About the fourth birthday party. Thanks folks.

Back to the subject. We pretty well hashed it out over a cup of coffee and as four-wheelers do, we were pretty much honest with one another. We admitted that four wheel drives were somewhat greedy in the gasoline consumption aspect. To be quite frank there are several economy cars on the road today that will go three times as far on a twenty dollar bill as the Red Mule. Its a four wheel drive truck, built by Jeep, bug, V8 engine, automatic tranny, power steering and brakes, air conditioned. Gas mileage wise its pretty typical of most big four wheel drives. Range is eight to thirteen. Average is just about ten miles per gallon. That's fact. We're not bragging nor are we really complaining. Just being truthful.

Fifteen thousand miles of travel yearly would require fifteen hundred gallons of gasoline. That's compared to say-five hundred for a Volkswagen. Difference stacks up to be six hundred dollars or better at the gas pump annually. Significant.

How many of those miles actually require four wheel drive capability? In the normal situation approximately ten percent. In extreme cases, maybe twenty percent. For the real benefit of fifteen hundred or slightly more miles we are charging ourselves six hundred dollars.

How about upkeep? Isn't the four wheel drive much more expensive. We ran this around quite a bit. If all the miles were done on the highway the upkeep would be somewhat more for the fourwheel drive. On the other hand if we tried to take the economy car where the fourwheel drive went, it most certainly would reverse itself. Call it even.

How about investment in the thing and the subsequent interest that accompanies it? New economy car we estimated at five thousand dollars. New fourwheel drive truck at eight thousand. Nine percent interest would add another two hundred and seventy dollars to our four-wheel drive added cost. Right?

We included license, taxes, insurance, service, and other items in our discussion. Conclusion: Cost of fourwheel drive to us would be just about one thousand dollars more per year for fifteen thousand miles driving.

The entire crucial headhunting climax of the matter is that the economy car will not do everything that the fourwheel drive will. Is the difference worth the one thousand dollars? That's not chickenfeed you know, even in this day and age of inflated living and rising salaries. That buys a nice color television. Or maybe makes a pretty tidy sum for the two week vacation.

What was the answer we arrived at? You want to know something? By the time the Red Mule had clawed its way down four thousand seven hundred and ninety feet of soybean field oozing mud after a three-inch rain, carrying parts and tools to fix a mired down malfunctioning combine I just simply forgot what the question was!

One of the all time favorite sayings remembered by mankind is that you get just about what you are willing to pay for.

What? A fourwheel drive pickup that gets thirty miles per gallon and costs less than three thousand dollars? Send me some. HAPPY FOUR-WHEELING.

Kentucky Afield

By John Wilson
Kentucky's duck hunters should be getting used to the intricacies of the point system by now, after three years of using it to determine duck limits.

But if you're still a little hazy on the point system, here is how it works: each species of duck is assigned a point value between 10 and 100. The hunter then adds the point value of each duck he takes to the previous total for that day's hunting. When his count reaches or goes over 100, he must stop shooting for the day. The possession limit (after two or more days of hunting) is the maximum number of ducks which could have been taken legally in two days.

A hunter could, for example, take 10 pintails (a 10-point bird) for his 100 points. But if his first duck is a canvasback (worth 100 points), he's through for the day. But because of the built-in "safety factor" of the point system, the hunter who has taken nine pintails (for 90 points) can still shoot one more duck of any point value. If, for example, he takes a canvasback, he will still be legal, although he has a total of 190 points.

The purpose of the point system is, of course, to encourage selective shooting. The hunter who gets up at 3:30 in the morning, drives 50 miles or so to the marsh, spends a half hour getting his decoys set out and another 30 minutes waiting in the cold for legal shooting time isn't going to be too anxious to take a 100 point bird, then have to pack everything in and go home.

The point system favors those hunters who are adept at identifying waterfowl on the wing. The hunter who can tell how many points that bird flying overhead is worth will usually get in more shooting than the hunter who identifies his ducks after he has retrieved them.

If you still have the point values from last year memorized, you're in luck — they will be the same this season. But just in case you've forgotten, canvasbacks are worth 100 points each, while hen mallards, black ducks, wood ducks, hooded mergansers and redheads are all 70 point birds.

The 10 point ducks are pintails, blue-winged teal, cinnamon teal, green-winged teal, gadwall, shovellers, scaup and all mergansers except the hooded merganser. Drake mallards and all other species of ducks not mentioned above are worth 25 points each. Coots have a point value of zero, but there is a daily limit of 45 and a possession limit of 30 on coots.

Kentucky's duck season will open Nov. 19 and run through Nov. 27, with the second phase of the season opening Dec. 10 and continuing through Jan. 14, 1978. Goose hunters may hunt from Nov. 12 through Jan. 20.

The limits on geese are five daily, with only two Canada geese or two white-fronted geese or one of each. The possession limit is also five, with any combination that does not include more than four Canada and white-fronted geese in the aggregate, of which not more than two may be white-fronted.

Remember that shooting hours for waterfowl are from one-half hour before sunrise until sunset (prevailing time). Waterfowl hunters may not use any shot larger than No. 2, and all hunters 16 years old and over must have a federal duck stamp in addition to the appropriate Kentucky License.

Finally, although it's too late to make reservations for hunting at the Ballard County Wildlife Management Area, those hunters wanting information about commercial hunting places in the Ballard County area can get in touch with Martin Flournoy, R.R. 1, La Center, KY. 42056. And for a copy of this year's waterfowl hunting guide, write the Dept. of Fish and Wildlife, Frankfort, KY. 40601.

Two New Fisheries Biologists Hired

The Division of Fisheries has two new biologists on the payroll. Kerry Prather, a 27-year-old central Kentuckian, has been tabbed as the biologist for the newly created Eastern Fisheries District. Prather, on the job since September 1, is based in Prestonsburg and has worked as a summer aide with the department for seven years. He holds a bachelor's degree in wildlife management from Eastern Kentucky University (EKU) and a master's degree in fisheries biology from Murray State University. On October 1, 27-year-old Lewis E. Kornman began working with the Environmental Section. Kornman, a native of Sterling, Illinois, has a bachelor's degree in wildlife management from Tennessee Tech. He's currently finishing work on his master's degree at EKU.

Bill Hillman (left) and Joe Pat Stone (right) netted these two fine bucks on a weekend camping and hunting trip to Big Sandy, Tennessee. Joe Pat's 4 pointer weighed 118 pounds, field dressed, and Bill's 4 pointer weighed 102 pounds, field dressed. Accompanying them on their trip were their wives, Mary and Lavelle.

Rats and Raptors Vie For City Residence

The city of Satellite Beach, Florida, has been plagued by rat problems and decided to use natural means to eliminate them. Having acquired two red-tailed hawks and a barn owl, the city turned them loose to feed on rats. City Manager Richard Shinn indicated that the raptors (birds of prey) are doing an effective job. Several kills have been confirmed with many reports from reliable citizens saying they had seen the birds at work. The owl hunts at night while the two hawks hunt during daylight hours. However, Shinn said the rat problem is so bad the city needs the aid of more birds and will be receiving "a dozen or so" more hawks and owls from the Florida Wildlife Service.

Marshall County Conservation Officer Appointed Supervisor In First Wildlife District

Steve Yontz, the 30-year-old regional supervisor for the First Wildlife District, has been promoted to assistant director of law enforcement with the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. The Whitesburg, Ky., native served as Christian Co. conservation officer from December, 1973, until last April, when he was named regional supervisor for the 14 westernmost counties in the state.

First Wildlife District Supervisor Named Assistant Director of Law Enforcement

Frankfort, Ky., November 22—Commissioner Arnold L. Mitchell has named First Region Supervisor Steve Yontz assistant director of the Division of Law Enforcement in the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

Yontz, 30, has served as regional supervisor since April of this year, following the death of Paul Winstead of Benton. The Whitesburg native spent over three years prior to that enforcing fish and game laws and regulations and assisting sportsmen as Christian Co. conservation officer (CO). While currently a resident of Benton, Yontz lived in Fairview during his stint as Christian Co. CO.

The new assistant director holds a BA from Berea College and has completed 60 hours of graduate work in law enforcement at the University of Kentucky. Yontz was a counselor at the department's Camp Earl Wallace, on Lake Cumberland, each summer between 1964 and 1967. He resumed his work with Kentucky youngsters in June, 1972, when the department's Division of Conservation Education hired him as a wildlife conservation education supervisor in the Hazard area. In December, 1973, Yontz was appointed Christian Co. CO.

"Given his academic and on-the-job experience, we feel Steve is the best choice among those individuals applying for the assistant-director's job," remarked Mitchell in announcing the selection.

As assistant director of law enforcement, Yontz will assist division Director R. W. Garrison in overseeing Kentucky's 124 COs and nine regional supervisors. He'll also have input into law enforcement policy making and help provide support to field personnel from the main office.

Taking over for Yontz as first region supervisor will be 34-year-old David Loveless, who has been Marshall Co. CO since December, 1971. Both appointments become effective December 1. Yontz, his wife, Judy, and two sons, David, 5, and Kevin, 3, will be relocating in Frankfort soon.

Frankfort, Ky., November 22—David Loveless, Marshall County's conservation officer (CO) since December, 1971, has been named regional supervisor in the First Wildlife District by Commissioner Arnold L. Mitchell of the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

Loveless becomes regional supervisor December 1, when current supervisor Steve Yontz assumes the duties of the department's assistant director of law enforcement. Yontz had held the position since April of this year when Paul Winstead of Benton died. Prior to that, Yontz was Christian Co. CO for four years.

"We feel the department is very fortunate to be able to move a man of Yontz's qualifications to the main office as an assistant director and have a man in the field like David to replace him," remarked Mitchell in announcing the appointment.

Loveless and his wife, Shirley, have two sons, Darren, 9, and Damian, 2.

As regional supervisor, Loveless becomes responsible for overseeing the work of 16

COs in Kentucky's 14 westernmost counties as they enforce the state's fish and game laws and regulations and assist the sportsmen of the area.

Loveless is a 34-year-old graduate of Livingston Central High school and has resided in Benton since December, 1972. He became Marshall Co. CO a year earlier.

"We feel the department is very fortunate to be able to move a man of Yontz's qualifications to the main office as an assistant director and have a man in the field like David to replace him," remarked Mitchell in announcing the appointment.

Loveless and his wife, Shirley, have two sons, Darren, 9, and Damian, 2.

NWTF announces Special Offer For TURKEY CALL Magazine

EDGEFIELD, SC—The National Wild Turkey Federation has announced a special holiday offer for Thanksgiving: six issues of TURKEY CALL magazine at an introductory price of $6.00 according to Tom Rodgers, executive vice president.

For the past four years the Federation—a 35,000-member, nonprofit organization—has published TURKEY CALL for wild turkey enthusiasts nationwide.

"TURKEY CALL is packed full of interesting turkey talk and photos, and offers the best articles and information available concerning wild turkey hunting, restoration, and management," says Rodgers. "We feel that concerned sportsmen everywhere will want to bring the colorful and exciting world of the wild turkey into their homes."

Regular Federation membership is $10.00 a year and includes a patch and decal. Donations to the NWTF are fully tax-deductible.

By Jerry Maupin

Fishing conditions are still good on Barkley and Ky. Lakes as the water cools to 56 degrees on the surface down to 10 feet.

Bass are holding on the treetops and stumps more now so a crank bait or spinner should produce. You may have to make several casts before he hits so work all structure thoroughly. The crappie have moved into the shallow drop offs and creek channels that feed into the winter migration routes. By shallow I mean the 8 to 10 foot depths that has a good amount of structure.

We have written many times about Sauger fishing during the hot summer months when trolling was the best method to catch them. Now the water is much colder and the sauger tend to school in larger groups than before. They are very active until the water drops to the 40 degree mark below Kentucky and Barkley dams so you should use a heavy lead head jig with a minnow attached along the rocky bars in the edge of the current. This offers some of the finest fishing excitement you can find. Many times you can find a school of crappie, white bass or even hand a spoonbill catfish while fishing for Sauger and in cold weather you need all the blood warming you can get.

Another bit of news I would like to pass on to you of great importance to all of us. It is taken from the Nov.-Dec. issue of Bass Master magazine.

The article reports on the cold weather killer called Hypothermia. Experts estimate as many as 95 percent of drownings which occur in water 50 deg. f. or lower can be directly attributed to hypothermia. This estimate should cause all winter fishermen and waterfowl hunters to pause and then make sure they are equipped properly to survive a dunking in cold water if it should occur.

Hypothermia simply means a condition where the inner body temperature is dropping and usually strikes anglers and hunters by one of two approaches—exposure to cold weather or accidental immersion in cold water. While the end result—death—can be the same, cold-water immersion demands faster reaction time to escape.

The first threat faced by a person falling overboard or capsizing is shock. The initial shock could place severe strain on the body resulting in cardiac arrest. If you survive the initial shock, rapid body adjustment to the cold water is next.

Cold water drains heat away from the body 20 times faster than air. Within minutes a person's skin temperature will be within three degrees of the water temperature.

Once the skin temperature has stabilized the inner temperature starts to drop and when it drops between 86 and 90 degrees F., unconsciousness can occur. Heart failure may occur anytime between the 86 and 75 degree mark. Death is almost certain once the inner body temperature falls beneath 75 degrees F.

To protect itself and other vital organs, the brain shuts down blood flow to the arms and legs which results in loss of control of arm and leg muscles.

As the blood flow is reduced you will lose control of these muscles and the only way to regain control is by rewarming the blood. This is done by swimming if you have a safe life vest on. Even though a person cools faster while swimming, data provided by research teams suggest that a person could swim 25 of a mile with a life vest on, before succumbing to hypothermia. If it is too far to swim get out of the water onto debris or the capsized boat and keep all of your wet clothing on. Some materials are better than others for insulation with wool perhaps the best. Select and wear proper winter clothing and life vests while hunting and fishing.

Happy Fishing.

Regulations On

Commercial Nets

Revised

Following final approval by the Legislative Subcommittee on Administrative Regulations, commercial fishermen can now use one-inch hoop nets on the Ohio, Mississippi, lower Cumberland and lower Tennessee rivers. Previously, nets had to be three-inch mesh. The regulation was approved earlier by the Fish and Wildlife Resources Commission.

Fourteen-year-old Roger Milby is mighty proud of this buck he tagged in the Blood River Bottoms during opening weekend of deer season. The deer dressed out 195 pounds and carried a rather large 8-point rack.

To The Point...

By Rick Norsworthy

After having stuffed myself on Thanksgiving turkey, and settled down to watch Uncle Briggs, I began to contemplate this week's column. And I thought of all the previous articles I have written. Seems like I have been mostly complaining about all the bad luck and misfortune I have had. Really, I haven't had such bad luck. Maybe I haven't had much good luck, but at this time of year we should reconsider just how lucky we really are. After watching the Telethon for handicapped children, we should realize just how fortunate we are; to be walking normally, and blessed with good health, as we tread through the woods. Lucky even to have the privilege of being able to pursue the whitetail deer, without unfair restrictions. At this time of Thanksgiving; yes, we should all be thankful.

Now season resumes on Dec. 10, and runs through Dec. 31. Personally, I am looking forward to the second half as the weather will at last be cool, and present more favorable conditions. Some of the bucks may still be in rut, but as the cold weather moves in, the deer will begin to yard for the winter. This simply means that they will be traveling together in small herds. Also they will not necessarily be using the same places they used during the first season, so some pre-season scouting may again be necessary. Remember also that they may probably be more wary, as the gun season could have left them a bit skittish.

I have been rather busy myself pursuing the wild duck, (not buck). Duck hunting is a good sport for the bowhunter. It keeps him from losing his mind between seasons, and gives him something to take his frustrations out on. The duck blind is a good place to sit and discuss how you wish you were deer hunting. This morning while sitting in the blind, I watched three deer swim to the islands on Kentucky Lake. Sometimes duck hunting can be as frustrating as deer hunting.

Anyway, I refuse to worry about all the unfortunate hunts I have had. It wasn't bad luck; I am one of the luckiest persons I know. I see a lot of deer, other wildlife, and thoroughly enjoy the tranquility of the woods. It will only be a matter of time before I have good luck, and before you too, collect that buck of doe; if we'll just stay with it and continue to be thankful for the lucky times we've had.

I'm cutting it short this week, as I sure this page will be full of happy gun hunters and their trophies. Trophies indeed, especially these big bucks that have come out of Callaway County. Seems the county season has been much more fruitful this year, and it is my speculation that it may be due in part to more hunter concern, better attitudes, and the good efforts of our new conservation officer, Jerry Alexander. Maybe if this trend continues, we'll all enjoy much better county-wide seasons in the future.

There will be the next monthly meeting of the Jenny Ridge Bowhunters Society, on Thursday, Dec. 1, at 7:00 p.m. at the club house. It is election night, and interested persons are invited to attend.

Heroic Busboy Still Can Not Shake Beverly Hills Nightmare

HIGHLAND HEIGHTS, Ky. (AP) — Six months after his quick action saved hundreds in one of the nation's worst fires, former busboy Walter Bailey dreads darkness.

Like other survivors of the Beverly Hills Supper Club holocaust, Bailey can't shake the nightmare of the May 28 blaze that killed 164 persons.

"Dark places remind me of the Cabaret Room ... the smoke ... the moaning ... when I was grabbing arms and pulling people from a pile," said Bailey.

"Living with my family has helped. If I lived by myself, I'd hear the voices. The sounds still bother me," said the 19-year-old freshman at Northern Kentucky University, who is studying to become a doctor.

"Symbols often come up that remind me of the fire. Once I caught a mouse in a mousetrap. That triggered some bad memories. Another time, I was driving home in the dark and thought I saw a body by the road.

"I have a lot of morbid thoughts, but I'm trying to forget them," said Bailey, a 5-foot-8 native of Texas.

When the fire broke out, Bailey interrupted a comedy team act by jumping on stage and pointing out exits. Within minutes, deadly smoke filled the crowded party room where more than 1,300 persons waited to hear singer John Davidson.

It was the worst fire in the U.S. since the Cocoanut Grove blaze in Boston, which claimed 491 lives on Nov. 28, 1942.

Owners of the nightclub already face damage suits totaling more than $1.5 billion. An investigation by the Commonwealth of Kentucky contends the Cabaret Room, where Davidson was appearing, was overcrowded by 800 persons.

Shortly after the fire, Bailey said he had a "revolutionary" fire safety device that would save lives in the future. The public scoffed.

"They thought I was a nut or something," he said, in a hurt tone.

But from his first-hand experience in a major fire, Bailey is convinced his idea has merit. He wants exit signs equipped with flashing lights and an alarm that would lead persons to safety.

"Heavy smoke can cover most exit signs in minutes, but the flashing lights and sound would help them locate the exit, even if they had to crawl," he said. "If they had something like that at Beverly Hills, everybody would be alive today."

Since the fire, Bailey has received more than 150 letters, including commendations from President Carter, Henry (The Fonz) Winkler and the State of Oklahoma. But they did little to quell his welled-up emotions. Finally, his anguish grew into rage.

"One night I threw a fit and cried all night," said Bailey, who lives with his divorced mother and three younger brothers.

He has refused to draw out of a trust fund set up for his education.

"I'm broke right now, but I don't think I need it," he said. "I think I'll need it worse in four years when I hopefully enter medical school."

He works a part-time job two nights a week to make ends meet.

Wrong Baby

Within hours after bringing a new baby home from the hospital, Eileen decided it wasn't hers. Sure enough, the hospital acknowledged a mistake and exchanged the baby for the right one.

In due course Eileen filed a damage suit for the "mental anguish" she had undergone. But in court the hospital denied liability: "We admit we were negligent. But except for being upset for a short time, this woman has suffered no harm at all. We can't see any basis for damages."

The court agreed and dismissed Eileen's claim. The court said mental anguish alone, with no discernible consequences, is not enough basis for a lawsuit.

Most courts take this viewpoint. They fear opening a "Pandora's box" of flimsy claims that could flood the judicial system.

This reasoning has been applied in a wide variety of situations. In another case a woman was eating from a carton of cottage cheese when she bit on a piece of glass. She spit it out at once, suffering neither cuts nor scratches.

Did she have a valid claim against the cheese maker? Again a court said no, because she had sustained no damage except for a few unpleasant moments.

But both of these cases involved mere negligence—nothing worse. If the mental anguish is inflicted not through negligence but on purpose, then the law usually takes a sterner attitude.

A bill collector sent out a barrage of nasty letters, not only to the debtor but also to his neighbors and his boss. Although the debtor suffered no physical injury, a court said he was entitled to damages from the bill collector.

The court observed that while the law might overlook distress caused by mistake, it should not overlook distress caused with malice aforethought.

AN OPEN LETTER

from Your Local Independent Full Service Dealer

An examination of your cost of living over the last few years will undoubtedly tell you that your dollar must be wisely spent in order to maintain the standard of living we've all become accustomed to. But in cutting corners in the operation of your automobile, there are several questions that you should consider:

1. Who maintains your oil, battery, power steering, transmission and radiator levels, checks your tires for pressure and wear, and keeps your windshield clean?
2. Who provides free restroom facilities for the traveling comfort of you and your family?
3. Who makes road calls, fixes your flat tires, changes your thermostat, and provides numerous other services when unexpected problems arise?
4. Who supports local civic activities with contributions and free advertising space?

We are local independent FULL SERVICE station dealers that not only have provided the services mentioned above, but also have a sincere interest in your overall comfort and safety on the highway. This is not our sideline - it's our chosen occupation. When you bypass a FULL SERVICE station to take advantage of a few cents savings on a gallon of gasoline at a total self-service facility, you are eliminating the automotive professionals from your neighborhood streets and national highways. You must ask yourself if the results are worth the temporary savings. Remember, if the neighborhood FULL SERVICE station becomes a thing of the past, you will be pumping the gasoline yourself and servicing your own car.

WE, THE INDEPENDENT FULL SERVICE STATION DEALERS OF KENTUCKY ASK ONLY THAT YOU REVIEW THE ALTERNATIVES AND DECIDE WHETHER OR NOT FULL SERVICE STATIONS ARE WORTH KEEPING AROUND. IF YOU FEEL AS WE DO, HELP US STAY IN BUSINESS WITH YOUR PATRONAGE & THROUGH SUPPORT OF LOCAL & NATIONAL LEGISLATION AIMED AT ELIMINATING UNFAIR BUSINESS PRACTICES.

TOBACCO STATE SENATORS Walter (Dee) Huddleston of Kentucky and Robert Morgan of North Carolina are shown discussing plans to combat anti-tobacco proposals by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Huddleston said he is most concerned by proposals to eliminate the price support program, which he called the "financial backbone of 600,000 tobacco farm families."

Nader Organization Rates Congressmen On Roll Calls

By DAVID ESPO
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts, Dick Clark of Iowa, Gary Hart of Colorado and Paul Sarbanes of Maryland won high marks among senators in a 1977 congressional report card by a Ralph Nader-affiliated organization.

Public Citizen also gave Democratic Reps. Andrew Maguire of New Jersey and Elizabeth Holtzman of New York the best grades in the House of Representatives for this year's session. Public Citizen, which identifies itself as a pro-consumer organization, issued its ratings on the results of 40 roll call votes in both the House and Senate. Issues surveyed included consumer protection, government revisions, oil and gas policy, atomic power, tax revision, ecology and government subsidies.

Congressional ratings have been compiled for more than three decades by a few organizations. But in recent years they have become an important lobbying weapon for an increasing number of groups.

An estimated 30 organizations representing widely varying viewpoints now issue periodic voting ratings by counting the number of "right" or "wrong" votes — those for or against the group's own views.

Nader said in a statement that Public Citizen's voting index "is a service to citizens so they can make up their own minds and hold their own members of Congress accountable. It does in part what members themselves should be doing — releasing their complete voting records to constituents."

The Public Citizen Index gave four Republicans — John Tower of Texas, Carl Curtis of Nebraska and Clifford Hansen and Malcolm Wallop of Wyoming — the lowest ratings among senators. The four voted with the Public Citizen position only two of 40 times or 5 percent of the time.

Kennedy, Clark, Hart and Sarbanes were in agreement with the organization on 36 of 40 votes for a rating of 90 percent.

Ms. Holtzman and Maguire agreed with the Public Citizen view on 39 of 40 votes for ratings of 95 percent.

The House member voting against Public Citizen views most often was Rep. Joe Waggoner, D-La., 39 of 40 roll calls.

The organization said Democrats averaged 57 percent ratings in both the House and Senate, more than double the Republican averages of 27 percent in the House and 26 percent in the Senate.

Republicans — Carter 28; Snyder 15.

OHIO
Democrats — Applegate 40; Ashley 53; Carney 63; Luken 60; Mottl 70; Oaker 73; Pease 78; Seiberling 78; Stokes 80; Vanik 83.

Republicans — Ashbrook 18; Brown 25; Devine 15; Gradison 28; Guyer 13; Harsha 33; Kindness 23; Latta 23; Miller 30; Regula 35; Stanton 33; Whalen 68; Wylie 60.

WEST VIRGINIA
Democrats — Mollohan 33; Rahall 55; Slack 33; Staggers 60.

Here are the Public Citizen ratings for senators:

INDIANA: Bayh, D 75; Lugar, R 18.
KENTUCKY: Ford, D 33; Huddleston, D 35.
OHIO: Glenn, D 58; Metzenbaum, D 78.
WEST VIRGINIA: Byrd, D 55; Randolph, D 50.

Area Senators And Representatives Rated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are the 1977 ratings members of Congress received from Public Citizen, a Ralph Nader-affiliated group which says it is pro-consumer.

The ratings are based on 40 roll calls on such issues as consumer protection, oil and gas policy, atomic power, tax revision, ecology, government subsidies and government revisions.

For instance, a rating of 90 percent means the member voted with the group's own views on 36 of the 40 votes.

Here are ratings for House members:

INDIANA
Democrats — Benjamin 68; Brademas 70; Cornwell 53; Evans 43; Fithian 60; Hamilton 53; Jacobs 68; Sharp 73.

Republicans — Hillis 20; Myers 13; Quayle 33.
KENTUCKY
Democrats — Breckenridge 40; Hubbard 28; Mazzoli 63; Natcher 55; Perkins 55.

Barlow Down To Its Last Barlow

BARLOW, Ky. (AP) — Barlow is down to its last Barlow. Since Thomas Jefferson Barlow came to Ballard County in 1849, there's been a Barlow in this tiny Western Kentucky community. But it looks like V. J. Barlow, who came home from "back East" 17 years ago, is the end of the line.

Barlow, a bachelor, is still stout enough at 82 to paint, shingle, chop wood and do chores around his 72-year-old house.

"I've got no worries, no wife and no car, so it's not so bad," he tells visitors.

V. J. Barlow is a curious mixture of homespun and highbrow, of rural Kentucky and Back Bay Boston. He wears old pleated pants and flannel shirts and doesn't mind getting dirty. Yet, he serves guests tea from silver pots and little cookies from doiled trays.

In an accent both of his native Ballard County and New England, he spins yarns about boyhood days in Barlow when it was hardly more than a crossroads. In between, he sandwiches stories about the Choate School in Wallingford, Conn., where he taught music to sons of the rich and influential for three decades.

He remembers well two boys whose Irish immigrant father had made a fortune in Boston. Their names were Joe and John Kennedy.

"I sat across the table from Jack Kennedy three meals a day for nine months one year," Barlow recalled. "Jack was a bright lad, with the shock of hair — the kind of boy all the mothers wanted for their son and all the girls wanted for their sweetheart."

He also said that young Kennedy, who attended Choate from 1931 to 1935, was a bit of a wag. "I remember the time he and some other boys organized a group called the 'muckers.' They weren't too fond of Choate's rigid code of discipline."

The muckers caused so much trouble that Joe Kennedy Sr. was called down from Boston to straighten things out. "After he came, everything went back to normal," said Barlow.

Barlow remembered, too, Jack Kennedy's surprise at seeing his old schoolmaster when he stopped in Paducah campaigning during the fall of 1960. "He asked me, 'Well, what are you doing here?' And I replied, 'I live here,'" Barlow said.

Joe Kennedy Jr. arrived at Choate, bag in hand, in 1929, the same year as Barlow. "He was a big handsome boy, strong and intelligent, too, though not as mischievous as Jack," said Barlow. That Kennedy son was killed during World War II.

Ruling On Presley Expected

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A federal judge says he will rule next week whether a non-profit Memphis group has the right to erect a statue of the late Elvis Presley and distribute pewter miniatures of the statue to raise money.

Judge Harry W. Wellford of U.S. District Court heard arguments Friday in a marketing rights dispute between the Memphis Development Foundation and Factors, Etc. Inc. of Bear, Del., over the right to distribute Presley souvenirs.

The foundation has filed an $8 million dollar lawsuit, against Factors, claiming the firm has waged a campaign to eliminate competition in distribution of Presley materials.

Factors, which claims exclusive marketing rights to Presley souvenirs, has filed a countersuit against the foundation.

The issue in the case is whether the rights to manufacture and sell a famous person's image can be passed on to the individual's heirs at death.

Since there is no Tennessee law governing the specific questions in the case, Wellford said, his ruling is likely to set a precedent.

Ronald S. Borod, attorney for the foundation, argued Friday that the right expires at death. Otherwise, he said, descendants of Benjamin Franklin and Paul Revere would be entitled to payment for commercial exploitation of their names and images.

But attorney John Thomason, who represents Factors in the case, said the right to privacy dies with the individual, but the right to publicity may be passed on to the individual's heirs.

Thomason said the contract between Vernon Presley and the company was a logical extension of similar contracts made by Elvis during his life. The foundation, which is seeking $276,000 for its proposed Presley memorial, is offering pewter statuettes for contributions of $25 or more toward the effort.

Immediately after the foundation announced plans to erect the memorial and offer the miniatures, Factors threatened to file suit blocking the move.

Calvary Temple To Hold Services

Every Sunday following the 10:00 Sunday School Hour, "Happy Hour" for Junior churchmen is held for all boys and girls at Calvary Temple, First Pentecostal Church of God, located two miles south of Murray on Hwy. 641.

A special invitation is extended to parents to come and bring your children for this special worship experience, a spokesman said.

Mrs. Juanita Harris directs the children's program.

Included in the "Happy Hour" is a wide variety of attention-compelling Bible stories, puppets, action songs, and exciting scripture quizzes with prizes.

The Rev. J. Matland Harris, pastor, will minister at the 11:00 a.m. adult worship hour and the 6:30 p.m. evening service, Sunday, November 27.

Special music will be furnished by the choir under the direction of Mrs. Linda Stalls.
